Christine Bromberg to Chair Junior Achievement of Southwest New England's Board of Directors

Robinson+Cole tax partner elected for two-year term, will promote financial literacy and job readiness

HARTFORD, CT (August 14, 2014) – Junior Achievement of Southwest New England has elected Christine E. Bromberg, a lawyer at the law firm of Robinson+Cole, chair of its Board of Directors. Ms. Bromberg has been elected to a two-year term, following her one-year term as vice chair of the board for 2013–2014. She has served on the JA of Southwest New England board since 2007.

In each of the past seven years, Ms. Bromberg has organized volunteer groups from Robinson+Cole to teach JA's curriculum about financial literacy, entrepreneurship, business, and economics to students in Hartford elementary schools. The programs have focused on topics such as what it means to be part of a community, how to get a job, and, most importantly, the benefits of staying in school.

Ms. Bromberg is a partner in Robinson+Cole's Tax Group where she chairs its federal tax practice and co-chairs its nonprofit organizations practice. She represents clients in connection with a broad range of domestic and international tax matters, with particular emphasis on mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, recapitalizations, divestitures, and spin-offs, as well as all forms of capital-raising activities. She is also a certified public accountant.

About Junior Achievement of Southwest New England

Junior Achievement is the global leader in providing cutting-edge, hands-on financial literacy, entrepreneurship, and work-readiness education. With a range of programs designed for students from kindergarten through high school, JA is helping students understand the importance of saving and planning for future financial needs. Last year, 2,500 volunteers—business professionals, parents, retirees, and college students—offered JA programs to students in schools throughout New Haven, Middlesex, Hartford, Litchfield, Windham, Tolland, and New London counties.
