Robinson+Cole Lawyer Named to Providence Business News' "40 Under Forty"

Bankruptcy lawyer Steven Boyajian among the region's brightest young leaders, innovators, and business professionals

PROVIDENCE, RI (July 27, 2017) – Providence Business News (PBN) recognized Robinson+Cole lawyer Steven J. Boyajian as a "40 Under Forty" winner during the publication's annual event on July 20, 2017 at the Aldrich Mansion in Warwick. Mr. Boyajian is a member of Robinson+Cole's Business Litigation Group where he focuses his practice on bankruptcy and creditors' rights.

Mr. Boyajian represents creditors, creditors' committees, financial institutions, equity holders, and trustees in formal bankruptcy proceedings and in in-court and out-of-court matters.

In addition to his practice, Mr. Boyajian is committed to giving back to the communities in which he lives and works. In his hometown of Barrington, he was recently elected to serve a four-year term on the Town Council. He also serves as a member of the Town's budget forecasting committee and is the chair of the ad hoc committee working to provide meaningful property tax relief to elderly and disabled residents. Mr. Boyajian serves on the Board of Directors of Day One, Rhode Island's leading organization committed to reducing sexual abuse and violence and supporting those affected by it, and he serves as a panel attorney for the Rhode Island Bar Association's elderly pro bono program where he regularly defends elderly Rhode Islanders confronted with unmanageable debts and abusive collection practices.
