Christine Bromberg Elected Vice-Chair of Junior Achievement of Southwest New England's Board of Directors

HARTFORD, CT (July 23, 2013) – Junior Achievement of Southwest New England has elected Robinson & Cole lawyer Christine E. Bromberg vice-chair of its Board of Directors. Junior Achievement empowers young people to own their economic success. More than 35,000 students in seven counties in Connecticut benefit from its programs.

Ms. Bromberg has been a board member of the organization for six years and each year has organized volunteer groups from Robinson & Cole to teach students in Hartford elementary schools curriculum about financial literacy, entrepreneurship, business, and economics. The programs have focused on topics such as what it means to be part of a community, how to get a job, and, most importantly, the benefits of staying in school.

“Junior Achievement is fortunate to have a strong board of directors and members like Christine who are passionate about Junior Achievement’s mission and provide great service to the organization,” said Louis Golden, president of Junior Achievement of Southwest New England. “As vice-chair, Christine will be one of the key leaders helping us develop new programs with high impact and serve even more young people in this region.”

Ms. Bromberg is a partner in the firm’s Tax Group, where she represents clients in connection with a broad range of domestic and international tax matters, with particular emphasis on mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, workouts (in and out of bankruptcy), recapitalizations, divestitures, and spin-offs, as well as all forms of capital-raising activities.
