Connecticut Coalition Against Domestic Violence Appoints Robinson+Cole Lawyer to Board of Directors

Environmental lawyer Kenneth C. Baldwin joins the board of the state's leading voice for victims of domestic violence and those agencies that serve them

HARTFORD, CT (May 23, 2016) – The Connecticut Coalition Against Domestic Violence (CCADV) has appointed Robinson+Cole partner Kenneth C. Baldwin to its Board of Directors for a two-year term.

“Men’s engagement in terms of how we approach developing solutions to the problem of domestic violence is a major CCADV strategic initiative,” said Karen Jarmoc, CEO, CCADV. “Having a person like Ken at our table is truly meaningful as we move forward with our work, as he exemplifies those characteristics of leadership and collaboration in such an authentic way.”

CCADV is the state’s leading voice for victims of domestic violence and those agencies that serve them. It is a membership organization of Connecticut’s 18 domestic violence service agencies that provide critical support to victims, including counseling, support groups, emergency shelter, court advocacy, safety planning, and lethality assessment, among other services. CCADV works to change social conditions through policy, advocacy, public awareness, and community education.

Mr. Baldwin’s practice at Robinson+Cole includes all aspects of telecommunications, energy, and land use law. He appears regularly before the Connecticut Siting Council, the Public Utilities Regulatory Authority, and local administrative agencies.
