Robinson+Cole Sponsors Women's Networking Event

Attendees learn how skills at the poker table can enhance success at the business table

STAMFORD, CT (October 8, 2014) – Women from a wide range of professions and industries joined the Connecticut Chapter of the Turnaround Management Association (CTTMA) and the Connecticut Chapter of the International Women's Insolvency & Restructuring Confederation (IWIRC) for an empowering ladies' poker night. Led by experienced instructors, the event combined fundamental instruction in the game of poker with insight on how to use the principles of poker to strengthen business and negotiation skills.

Robinson+Cole lawyers Taylor A. Shea and Kristen M. Bandura served as event co-chairs for the CTTMA. Pamela K. Elkow and Kathleen Sebastian from Robinson+Cole were also in attendance, and the firm was an event sponsor. The event drew nearly 30 women, including bankers, attorneys, business analysts, accountants, marketing and development professionals, environmental consultants, and risk management professionals.

Robinson+Cole has a strong history and leadership presence within the CTTMA, with Robinson+Cole lawyers Patrick M. Birney serving as a director and the chair of public relations, Kristen Bandura serving as a director and the chair of the Women's Committee, and Taylor A. Shea serving as a member of the Women's Committee.
