Robinson+Cole Continues Growth in Boston with Addition of Insurance Partner Sharon S. Fry

BOSTON, MA (December 27, 2022) – Robinson+Cole announces the addition of Sharon S. Fry as a partner in the firm's Insurance + Reinsurance Group. Fry focuses her practice on the management and resolution of complex insurance coverage matters, particularly in the financial lines area.

"I am thrilled to welcome Sharon to Robinson+Cole," said Rhonda J. Tobin, Robinson+Cole's Managing Partner. "Her talent and experience will bring even more depth to our already strong financial lines insurance team, and will significantly enhance and complement our existing capabilities. Her addition also furthers our strategic plan to grow in large commercial centers and in some of our most high-profile practices." In 2020, Robinson+Cole added an eight-attorney financial lines team headed by John McCarrick and Erica Kerstein in New York.

Fry serves as insurance coverage and monitoring counsel for domestic and international insurers, specializing in claims under directors and officers, errors and omissions, fiduciary liability, and employment practices policies. Her experience includes evaluating the extent of coverage under primary and excess professional liability policies and assessing liability and damages for governmental investigations and various types of litigation, such as securities fraud, antitrust, ERISA, employment discrimination, mergers and acquisitions, and bankruptcy. She has successfully negotiated the resolution of various claims and coverage disputes through direct discussions and alternative dispute resolution. Fry has experience with the Bermuda insurance market, and London insurance market, where she serves as coverage and monitoring counsel for various Lloyd's syndicates. Prior to Robinson+Cole, Fry was a partner at Peabody & Arnold LLP.

This is the second consecutive year Robinson+Cole has welcomed three partners to its Boston office. Earlier this year, Matthew M. Burke joined in the firm's Insurance + Reinsurance Group and Kathleen G. Healy joined in the Health Law Group. Prior to that, the Boston office of Robinson+Cole welcomed, real estate finance and affordable housing partner, Deirdre Robinson, government and corporate investigations and white-collar criminal defense partner, Seth Orkand, and complex commercial litigation partner, Amanda Phillips.

Robinson+Cole has also seen significant growth this year in its other markets. Last month, the firm announced the opening of an office in Washington, DC with four intellectual property attorneys and a patent agent. William Bradley joined as a partner, along with Kyle Hepner and David Leibovitch as counsel, and Daniel Lass as a Patent Agent. Jennifer Driscoll, an anti-trust and government investigations attorney who has spent over fifteen years working at prominent firms in Washington DC, recently joined the firm as counsel. The addition of experienced and talented intellectual property lawyers in DC followed the addition of another four-person intellectual property team led by partner John Mutchler that joined the firm in Hartford, Connecticut in September.
