Robinson+Cole Lawyer Named to Hartford Business Journal's 2020 “Women in Business” Class

Rhonda Tobin among honorees recognized for making a significant difference within their organization and the community

HARTFORD, CT (June 9, 2020) – Robinson+Cole Litigation Section co-chair Rhonda J. Tobin was selected by the Hartford Business Journal for inclusion in its 2020 “Women in Business” recognition. Ms. Tobin is among 15 honorees who demonstrate business success, confidence in themselves and their organizations, and a strong track record of professional leadership. The honorees were each profiled in a special section published in the April 6, 2020 edition of the Hartford Business Journal.

Ms. Tobin has represented insurance companies for almost 30 years in litigation of disputes involving insurance and reinsurance coverage, insurance bad faith and extracontractual liability, and professional liability. In addition to serving as co-chair of Robinson+Cole’s Litigation Section, she is a member of the firm’s Managing Committee. Ms. Tobin is one of six Connecticut attorneys, named as a fellow in the American College of Coverage Counsel, the preeminent association of lawyers who represent the interests of insurers and policyholders. She has also been listed as one of the Top 250 Women Litigators in the United States and a Local Litigation Star by Benchmark Litigation.

The Hartford Business Journal's 2020 “Women in Business” class features 15 remarkable women, selected from a record-breaking 116 nominations, who are being recognized for making a significant difference within their organization and the community. In lieu of a recognition event, which was canceled as a result of the current social distancing guidelines in effect, honorees were celebrated during a special two-part webinar series titled “Women in Business Leaders Power Hour Webinars: Leading, Inspiring & Motivating Through Change” hosted on June 2 and June 9. During the webinars, 2020 Women in Business honorees discussed their leadership roles as well as inspiring and motivating through change and growth.
